Mr. Nucleus Johnson has been reciting the speeches and sermons of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. since the young age of 6 years old. Mr. Johnson's determination to keep the powerful and transcending words of Dr. King alive drives his passion to expose audiences to the voice that has given hope to many for generations. Those who have experienced the voice has described it as transformative, nostalgic, and impactful. Audiences are amazed by Nucleus' ability to capture the cadences and mannerisms of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King. As a result, Mr. Johnson received a personal request from Mrs. Coretta Scott King and the King family in 2003 and was humbled by the opportunity to speak during the nationally televised Annual MLK Commemorative Celebration at Ebenezer Baptist Church, where he received the blessing of Mrs. King for keeping her late husbands legacy alive. Let Mr. Nucleus Johnson transport your audience into the world of Dr. King while exposing them to issues that remain relevant today.

“Three Dimensions of a Complete Life”

This sermon was delivered by Dr. King at Dexter Avenue Baptist Church on January 24, 1954, during which he focused on

- Inward concern for one's own welfare
- Outward concern for others, and
- Upward reach for God.

“Why Jesus Called a Man a Fool”

Vibrantly delivered on August 27, 1967, Mr. Johnson delivers this sermon with the purpose of echoing Dr. King warnings to his audience not to

- Don't allow the means by which you live to out distance the ends for which you live.
- Don't fail to realize your dependence on others
- Don't fail to realize your dependence on God

“The Drum Major Instinct”

Just as Dr. King delivered this sermon in Atlanta, Georgia on February 4, 1968, Mr. Johnson helps his audience understand

- How to strive to be first in love
- The problems that come from only caring about yourself and
- He who is greatest among you shall be your servant.
